

JOINT STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE NATIONAL BROADBAND NETWORK

MEDIA RELEASE 15 June 2020

Invitation for further submissions by 15 September 2020

The Joint Standing Committee on the National Broadband Network is calling for further submissions to its inquiry into the business case for the National Broadband Network (NBN) and the experiences of small businesses.

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a significant impact on all aspects of Australia's economy and society, including an increasing reliance on broadband services delivered over the NBN. In order to understand that impact fully, the committee has invited further submissions by Tuesday 15 September 2020.

The committee is particularly interested in hearing views on the following matters:

- The broadband experiences of NBN consumers, including individuals, community groups and small to medium businesses, throughout COVID-19;
- Network performance, changing traffic volumes, usage patterns and other issues due to COVID-19; and
- nbn co's response to COVID-19, including measures to help internet service providers support affected customers.

Please note that submissions do not need to be lengthy. The committee is mindful of not adding any unnecessary workload to those dealing with the impacts of COVID-19 at this time.

Further information

Further information about the inquiry, including published submissions and hearing programs, is available on the committee website:
