Parliamentary inquiry into a better family law system to support and protect those affected by family violence

Issue date: 19 June 2017

Judges to face Parliamentary Committee on family violence and the family law system

The Federal Parliamentary Committee examining family violence and the family law system will hold a public hearing tomorrow with the Chief Justice of the Family Court of Australia, the Honourable Diana Bryant AO, and the Chief Judge of the Federal Circuit Court of Australia, Chief Judge John Pascoe AC CVO.

The Chair of the Committee, Ms Sarah Henderson MP, explained that the Family Court and the Federal Circuit Court share federal jurisdiction for family law matters, an increasing number of which involve family violence.

“In recent years, there has been significant attention on the issue of fragmentation between federal family law and state courts and the impact of this division on those affected by family violence.

“The hearing will be an opportunity for the Committee to understand the complexities of the Courts’ work and discuss proposals to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of our legal system. Our courts are meant to ensure the safety of vulnerable people – a requirement of which is timely resolution to matters before them.” Ms Henderson said.

The hearing will be webcast live (audio and visual) at aph.gov.au/live. A recording of the hearing will be made available on the Inquiry webpage shortly following the hearing.

Public hearing details: 4.45 pm to 6.15 pm, Tuesday 20 June 2017, Committee Room 2R1, Parliament House, Canberra
