

Respected Sir,

my application is in queue from last 2 years and 3 months and according to rules it will take 2 more years to open my file.

In Sydney its hard to get a IT job without PR and experience whereas in my home country India its easy to get IT job but I will not be able to live in india due to my bridging visa condition .so could you please advice me how can I start my carrier in IT field in such a bad situation after spending 10 years in IT and completing two bachelor and two masters in IT which is never done by anyone.

Please either issue my permanent residence visa or give me a IT job or let me allow live overseas without any restriction until my application is finalised.

Even I got email before lodging pr application from Immigration on response to my query, stating that I got sufficient points for my permanent residency which is uncommon replied.

Most of my friends who came after me not only got pr but passport as well by spending less time and money to get less qualified courses than me through which they got pr then passport.

I m feeling embarrassment visiting India every time without PR which may effect on other students who are thinking for their studies in Australia on seeing my situation.

Thanking You
Your's sincerely
Abdul Haque

ABDUL HAQUE

My Qualification

Diploma in Civil Engineering-India

Bachelor of Computer Application-India

Bachelor of Information System-Sydney

Master of Information System-Sydney

Master of Information Technology-Sydney