Commonwealth share of Schooling Resource Standard under Gonski

Question

Mr Cook: In 2014-15, of total government funding, state and public, the Australian government provided 13.4 per cent of that. Into the future that will increase significantly in terms of total public funding, with the share being 20 per cent by 2018, as the minister indicated.

Senator JACINTA COLLINS: So the current one is 17 per cent?

Mr Cook: That is national average.

Senator JACINTA COLLINS: With the current 17 per cent, where was that forecast to go to over the first six years of Gonski 1?

Answer

The Commonwealth share of the Schooling Resource Standard under the Australian Education Act 2013 and National Education Reform Agreement in 2019 is estimated to be 20.9 per cent for government schools and 35.2 per cent for all schools.

When was the indexation rate due to be reviewed under the NERA?

Question

Senator JACINTA COLLINS: Mr Cook, when was the interest rate due to be reviewed under the Gonski 1 package?

Answer

Paragraph 105 (p23) of the National Education Reform Agreement stated that:

The Parties agree to commission an independent review of the indexation arrangements set out in provisions 68-69 in accordance with the terms of reference set out in Schedule G. The review will be completed by March 2015 and will be implemented from the beginning of the 2016 school year.

Gap for States to get to 100%

Question

Do you have a sense of how much extra funding states will have to contribute to ensure they get to 100% of the SRS?

Answer

It is not possible to estimate or project with any certainty the current level of state funding. States are currently only required to report actual state funding on My School. Funding levels for 2017 will not be available until early 2019.

The department therefore cannot provide with accuracy the extra funding states will have to contribute at this time.

How much would the 24 schools have got under Labor's arrangements?

Question

We were talking about overfunded schools previously. There has been a lot of talk about the 24 schools. I would like to know how much in total the 24 schools lose under this government proposal, and how much they would continue to gain under the status quo. Do you have those figures or is it something you would need to take on notice?

Answer

Under the proposed arrangements, 24 Independent schools are expected to have a reduction in their Commonwealth funding per student between 2017 to 2021.

Continuing the current arrangements for these 24 schools, rather than implementing the proposed arrangements, would mean these 24 schools would receive $481 million more (cumulatively) in Australian Government funding over the next decade. This is made up of the additional funding they would receive from 3.0 per cent growth each year ($322 million) plus reversal of the 'negative growth' they would have under the proposed arrangements ($159 million).

This has been calculated based on latest enrolment data reported to the Commonwealth Department of Education and Training and assumes the same student population applies from 2017 to 2027 to allow meaningful comparison. This is consistent with the approach used to produce figures on the School Funding Estimator website.

Funding increases for the Catholic sectors by state

Question

Senator PATERSON: We can do it on notice if necessary. Just to recap, I am interested in both the total dollars and percentage terms increases, and I am interested in them over the next four years and the next 10 years, essentially for every Catholic system in the country—Queensland, Victoria, New South Wales, Western Australia, Tasmania and the Northern Territory. Rather than going through all of them verbally, it may be easier to provide a table on notice.

Mr Cook: Yes.

Answer

Funding increases for the Catholic sector by state, 2018-2027

| | Difference in funding from 2017 ($m) | | Difference in funding from 2017 (%) | | Average annual growth per student (%) | |
|------------------|---------------------------------------|-------|-------------------------------------|-------|---------------------------------------|--------------------|
| | 2021 | 2027 | 2021 | 2027 | 4 years (2017-21) | 10 years (2017-27) |
| NSW | 332 | 918 | 17.3 | 47.8 | 3.8 | 3.6 |
| VIC | 375 | 1,090 | 20.3 | 59.1 | 3.5 | 3.3 |
| QLD | 265 | 700 | 20.6 | 54.3 | 3.7 | 3.5 |
| SA | 37 | 110 | 9.9 | 29.7 | 3.8 | 3.7 |
| WA | 137 | 423 | 23.4 | 72.7 | 4.0 | 3.8 |
| TAS | 31 | 77 | 20.9 | 51.5 | 4.4 | 4.3 |
| ACT | 1 | -2 | 1.3 | -1.8 | -0.2 | -0.8 |
| NT | 26 | 79 | 33.9 | 102.6 | 5.8 | 5.6 |
| Australia | 1,204 | 3,396 | 19.0 | 53.5 | 3.7 | 3.5 |

Note: This is based on the estimates used for the 2017-18 Budget which include enrolment projections. Additional adjustment funding will be provided to the ACT Catholic sector to freeze their 2017 funding entitlement for the 4 year period 2018-2021.

Use of NCCD in funding model

Question

But what I want to know from the magic folder that you have got there—or maybe take it on notice—is the moment it went from still being a mess at last estimates to all of a sudden being a vital instrument that was able to inform national policy. That transformation has happened in a very short period of time. Was it just to hide it, or to keep it a secret? Why were we not apprised of that, and what is the sector's engagement? On notice if you can.

Answer

The 2011 Review of Funding for Schooling (also known as the Gonksi review) recommended that, as a matter of priority, work be progressed on collecting nationally consistent data on students with disability and the level of educational adjustment in order to inform a loading (see recommendations 14 and 26).

The Australian Government has noted the use of the Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability (NCCD) for funding purposes numerous times, including, but not limited to:

- Senator the Hon Christopher Pyne MP, 17 June 2015, Parliament Federation chamber during consideration of the Appropriation Bill (No. 1) 2015-16, p. 6731.
- Australian Government, May 2016, Quality Schools, Quality Outcomes, p. 12.
- 2016-17 Budget provided an additional $118.2 million to support students with disability in the 2016 and 2017 calendar years informed by the NCCD.

The Australian Government has been working with states and territories and the non-government sector through the Education Council's Joint Working Group to Provide Advice on Reform for Students with Disability to continue to improve the quality, consistency and reliability of the collection.

On 16 December 2016 Education Council agreed in-principle that the NCCD should be one of a range of factors used to inform policy and funding decisions for students with disability.

Students with disability loading

Question

Mr Cook: That is right, sorry: the total national data. It is $1.5 billion in 2017 and $1.6 billion in 2018.

Senator JACINTA COLLINS: What is the difference between the two? Is that simply indexation, or is there additional funding going into it?

Mr Cook: The percentages that have been identified—the 312 per cent extensive for primary, the 146 per cent substantial and the 42 per cent—also drive additional funding.

Senator JACINTA COLLINS: How much additional funding is attracted by that factor?

Answer

The disability loading that will apply from 2018 is different to the current loading. Because of this, it is not possible to disaggregate how much of the increase is attributable to indexation of the SRS, the differentiated loadings or increase in students.

Australian Government funding for students with disability will grow from $1.5 billion in 2017 to $1.6 billion in 2018, and up to $2.7 billion in 2027. Over ten years, total Commonwealth funding through the disability loading will be over $21.2 billion, and will grow by an average of 5.9 per cent each year, which is above the level of indexation.

The new loadings are a percentage of the base amount per student, which has increased to $10,953 for primary students and $13,764 for secondary students.

Instead of providing a flat 186 per cent loading for all students with disability in mainstream schools and 223 per cent in special schools, the differentiated loading provides for three levels of adjustment:

| | Base per student amount in 2018 | Supplementary | Substantial | Extensive |
|-------------------|---------------------------------|------------------|--------------------|--------------------|
| Primary student | $10,953 | 42% ($4,600) | 146% ($15,991) | 312% ($34,173) |
| Secondary student | $13,764 | 33% ($4,542) | 116% ($15,966) | 248% ($34,135) |

Under the current arrangements, secondary students attract more disability funding than primary school students, because they attract 186 or 223 per cent of a larger base per student amount. The new arrangements take account of this in the percentages to ensure an equitable amount of funding is provided across all ages.

Funding under the Australian Education Act 2013

Question

Senator HANSON-YOUNG: How much is the 4.7 per cent of schools that are below the SRS, the three per cent indexation for schools above the SRS and the 3.6 per cent indexation for schools on the SRS, for non-government schools and those three participating states? Do we know what that is actually going to cost over the forward estimates?

Answer

Under the Australian Education Act 2013 (the Act), per student funding is indexed by 4.7 per cent for approved authorities below the Schooling Resource Standard (SRS), 3.6 per cent for approved authorities on the SRS and 3.0 per cent for approved authorities above the SRS.

Students with disability loading

Question

The dollars allocated to the SWD (total) for each year 2018 to 2027.

Answer

The total Commonwealth funding provided through the new student with disability loading is estimated to be $21.2 billion over ten years. Using the 2016 Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability (NCCD), the annual loadings are estimated to be approximately:

- $1.6 billion in 2018
- $1.7 billion in 2019
- $1.8 billion in 2020
- $1.9 billion in 2021
- $2.0 billion in 2022
- $2.2 billion in 2023
- $2.3 billion in 2024
- $2.4 billion in 2025
- $2.6 billion in 2026
- $2.7 billion in 2027

Note: these figures are based on departmental analysis and are estimates only using latest available data (2016 NCCD). The actual loadings will be determined annually by the numbers of students identified in the top three levels of the NCCD.

Estimated proposed students with disability funding 2018 to 2027

Question

The estimated amount that each state and each approved authority will receive under the students with disabilities loading proposed in the Australian Education Bill 2017 from 2018 to 2027?

Answer

The table below provides the estimated Commonwealth funding for students with disability by state and sector for 2018-2027.

The estimates are based on latest available data (i.e. 2016 NCCD and 2016 census data).

The department has not calculated or provided the disability loading at the approved authority level. The total students with disability loading has been calculated at the school level as part of the school's individual SRS, however, the amount of Australian Government funding attributable to the students with disability loading has not been calculated in isolation.

Estimates at the approved authority level of the proportion of their funding entitlement attributable to particular loadings are expected to be calculated later in the year for the following year, when the department updates funding estimates with latest schools census data and provides provisional funding estimates to schools for 2018.

To calculate and provide these figures at this level for each year in the ten year transition based on 2016 data would be misleading.

How base funding for non-government primary students is discounted by capacity to contribute

Question

The base per student rate that a school will receive according to new proposed Primary School Capacity to Contribute curve with the following SES scores: (a) 90; (b) 100; (c) 110; (d) 120; and the base per student rate schools at each of these SES levels would receive under the current capacity-to-curve for primary schools under the Australian Education Act 2013.

Answer

Under the capacity to contribute settings, non-government students have a percentage of the base funding amount discounted based on their SES score.

The table below applies the current and proposed discount percentages to the 2018 base funding amount for primary students in schools with SES scores of 90, 100, 110 and 120. In 2018, the base funding amount for a primary student will be $10,953.

Discounted base funding amounts for primary students under current and proposed capacity to contribute settings, 2018

| SES score | Base funding based on current discount percentage | Base funding based on proposed discount percentage |
|------------------|--|---|
| 90 | $9,858 | $9,858 |
| 100 | $9,639 | $9,201 |
| 110 | $7,996 | $7,119 |

Rationale for 80 per cent share of the SRS for non-government schools and 20 per cent share for government schools

Question

Detail about what analysis and/or modelling was undertaken to determine the 80 per cent share for non-government schools and 20 per cent share for government schools were the most appropriate levels.

Answer

The target Commonwealth shares of the Schooling Resource Standard reflect the Commonwealth's historic role as the minority funder of government schools and majority funder of non-government schools.

The analysis undertaken was advice to Government as part of the 2017 Budget process.
