Senator the Hon Sue Lines
President of the Senate
Parliament House
CANBERRA ACT 2600

Dear President

I am writing to convey the Government's response to the Senate Legal and Constitutional Affairs Legislation Committee's report on the Sex Discrimination Amendment (Removing Discrimination Against Students) Bill 2018, which predates the 47th Parliament.

The Government notes each recommendation of the report. However, given the passage of time since the report was tabled, a substantive Government response is no longer appropriate.

Every Australian, no matter their race or religion, should be able to enjoy their life in any Australian community, without prejudice or discrimination. Commonwealth anti-discrimination laws make it unlawful to discriminate on the basis of protected attributes including age, disability, race, sex, intersex status, gender identity, and sexual orientation in certain areas of public life.

The Government recognises the important role that faith-based schools play in our education system and the community. We remain committed to ensuring a balance between protecting students and teachers from discrimination and allowing schools to continue to operate in accordance with their religious ethos. It is the Government's view that this reform requires a bipartisan approach to proceed in a way that unites, rather than divides, our community.

Please accept this letter as the Government's response to the Committee's report. A copy of this letter has also been provided to Senator Jana Stewart, Chair of the Senate Legal and Constitutional Affairs Legislation Committee.

Yours sincerely

Michelle Rowland MP
