

To whom may concern:

I was really shocked by the news about this migration amendment. As an application of V886, i have been patiently waiting for my visa to be approved ever since 2008. At the time, i met all the requirements of V886. But because the international economic downturn, my application was on hold until now. In between now and then, the DIAC has been changing the policies for several times. We cant catch up the requirements fast enough. This time, i strongly disagree about the Visa capping law. This is an unfair legislation to us who patiently waited for nealy two years. We have been spent time, money and lives here to wait for it. And now all the sudden, we are told that we are kicked out of the country by you within just 28 days?

I really cant accept this. This is the most unfairness i received ever. This country has gone far away from being fair to all people. Such unfairness really damages the reputation of this country. I am afraid that there will be less and less people coming to Australia in considering such unfairness you treat people. They might be facing exactly same situation we are facing now. As Tony Abbot said, we should never truast whatever he said, I think he is wrong. He should say that we should never trust whatever the leading politician said.

All we need is the fairness. All we want is to apply our situation to the requirements at the time when we applied our visa. If this bill goes ahead, then there are thousands people will have to face leaving in just 28 day. What are we going to do? How we going to solve all the problems in just 28 days? Its really hard. Its easy to say, but cant you just consider the situation again and agian?

Sue Xu