

I understand that the Vocational Training & Employment Centre model is likely to be far more effective in encouraging indigenous youth by providing education, training and mentoring.

Prevention is much better than trying to cure! I trust that this approach will be given far more attention!

Anna Shepherd