

I am concerned about the Minister's proposal to introduce changes to legislation regarding refugees.

I am ashamed of the lack of compassion shown to date so the introduction of even harsher measures is horrific.

Would Peter Dutton feel comfortable about his own family members being subjected to such inhumane treatment on the other side of the world?

I feel he regards refugees as lesser beings.

Susan Mahar