

My views are the current legislation extension for another ten years would not benefit the Indigenous race any and they are in dire need for a change away from this and towards their own definition of Dadirri and peace (their definition of peace).