

Dear Sir/Madam,

I have just graduated from university and have applied for visa 885. I have completed my master degree in Australia. After the graduation, I got married with my husband who also graduated with a master degree. We decided to operate a business in Australia in order to make contribution to Australian economy as well as to make gain business experience for ourselves.

We will start our business at the end of June 2010, we have many dreams and plans to be carried out in our business. We are confident that we can live and operate a good business in the future. A PR visa will let our dreams come true. We do not want to see that our visa will be cancelled and our investment in Australia will be ruined. We know Australia is a multicultural country which welcomes people from all nationalities, and we are happy to see the government will make a wise decision to help Australian economy go well and well-educated overseas students make contribution to Australian economy.

Kind Regards!

Yi Huang
