

Dear Sir / Madam,

Re: Migration Amendment (Visa Capping) Bill 2010

This email will strongly state the disagreement of Migration Amendment (Visa Capping) Bill 2010.

If parliament approves this bill, it will affect Australian Government's reputation all over the world. When the applicants apply their PR to build their future in Australia, it is because they trust the Australian Government and they also love Country itself. However, if this bill is approved, it means some of them will break their dreams and their future. During their wait for their PR period, they already prepared their lives in Australia. For example, they may already have purchased their cars, houses or their own business and others already got their full time jobs. They could live stably in Australia. If Immigration government cease their bridging visa because of this bill, their loss is uncountable and this action also breaks the humanitarian.

From Australian Economy view, if Parliament approves this bill, it means Australian government will lose huge number of overseas students who could bring lots of income for education, property, normal living expenses etc. This huge loss also is uncountable. If the foreign countries and foreign person could not trust the Australian Government, even one day the Australian Government would like to cancel this bill, till that time who could re-trust the Australian Government.

For all the applicants' view, during they are lodging their application, there is no rules or Act shown that their applications will be ceased because of this bill. If their relevant documents are valid and they already matched their immigration marks at the time they lodged their applications, how can Parliament approve this bill to cease their visas. This is unfair to every existing applicants.

This bill should consider the livelihoods of existing applications, not just the Australian population or work shortages.

Kind regards,
