

Stronger Families through Intervention in Australia???????????

a few questions to the Senate and Ministers:

1. name another county in the world who 'manages' it's Indigenous population in the same way the NT did (bring in the army, Norforce) to remote communities, take children off the streets for a medical check-up without parents knowledge (according to her adopted daughter was taken for 'a medical' with no permission requested or received by the "Intervention Medical team"
2. name one success story from the previous intervention that proves it worked
3. what right does this government have to judge all Indigenous people according to a few dysfunctional Indigenous communities (the Indigenous communities with the highest and longest exposure to western people)
4. where is the so called 'respect' of Indigenous people the Australian government speak of many times
5. why repeat something that has failed

Some words from remote Indigenous women to get kids to school, feed them two good meals a day to get people to spend money on food, reduce the price of food in remote communities listen to what the Indigenous people who are the recipients of this unjust practice say.....listen to them....not the overseer, the BBM's....the CEO's.... listen to what the Top End remote people say and then help the desert people in real ways without reducing them once again to some 'learned helpless' mob of people
