

To whom it may concern,

My colleague Shannon Hill and I provided evidence to the inquiry on Friday 28 April on behalf of the Victorian Women's Health Services Network. We were asked a question on notice regarding the number of women who live in Tasmania who travel to Victoria to access abortion healthcare.

We have followed up with Women's Health Victoria who run the 1800MyOptions service who have confirmed that this data is not routinely collected and therefore we are unable to provide a response to this question.

Regards

Elly
