

Dr Elayne Hien Tran

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am a dentist practicing in            and a member of ADA NSW. I have been participating in the CDDS and been audited by Medicare. It has brought a lot of stress upon myself as well as damage to professional image. I would like to say that:

Ø    patients seen under the CDDS were treated in good faith.

Ø    disturbed to think that current legislation makes the health professional liable for any minor administrative oversights.

Ø    legislation needs to protect dentists who have provided good treatment, but have overlooked some aspects of the paperwork.

I ought to think that we as a profession have been treated unfairly by the Labor government for some good deeds that we have done to the people of Australia.

Sincerely,

Elayne Tran
