

Census 2016: Aussies losing their religion as Islam soars by 160%

Yahoo7 and Agencies on June 27, 2017, 9:47 am

SHARE
 TWEET
 WHATSAPP
 EMAIL
 ...

Islam is on the rise and more Australians are identifying as having no religion, according to the results of the 2016 Census.

VIDEO First snapshot at controversial census results for Perth locals. source: Seven News

The 2016 Census results have been released today showing the number of Australians who identify as Muslim has grown 160 per cent since 1991.

Buddhism and Hinduism have also increased by 200 per cent and 533 per cent respectively.

Islam represents 2.6 per cent of Australians, compared to 2.2 per cent in 2011, while 2.4 per cent of Australians identify as Buddhist and 1.9 per cent as Hindu.

FOLLOW US

-60%

Barefoot Oatley Slip On

$19.99

View now

MOST VIEWED VIDEOS

WATCH:
Rampaging passenger launches violent, racist attack on bus driver

Branch-wielding man run down in Queensland carpark row

Weatherman blown away during live cross

New approach may beat back pain, without doctors

California residents use pool water to battle fire north of LA

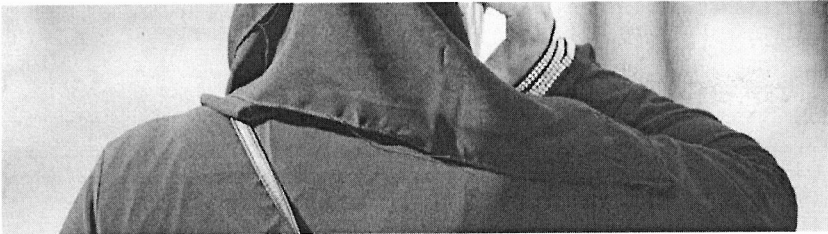

Firefighters make dramatic rescue after dog gets head stuck in tree

Houli knocks

Feedback

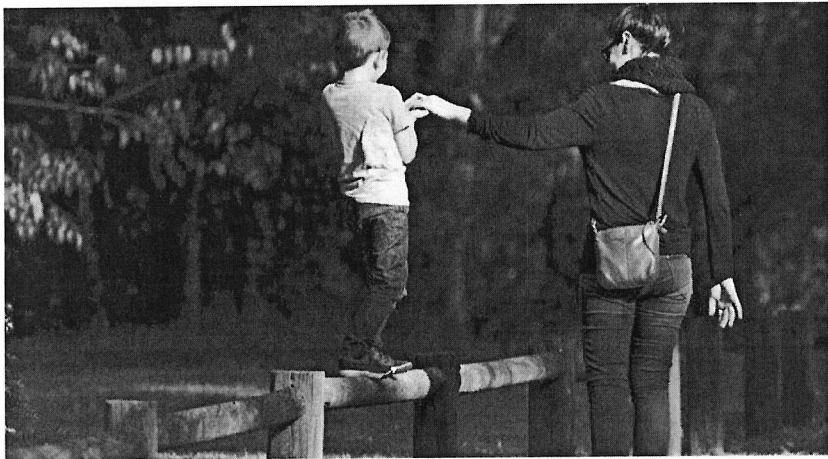

More and more Australians are identifying as Muslim. Source: AAP

The census also shows 30 per cent of Australians identified as having no religion, compared with 25 per cent in the 2011 census.

Meanwhile, the number of Australians speaking only English at home fell from almost 77 per cent in 2011 to almost 73 per cent in 2016.

The figures showed nearly half of the population are either first or second generation Australians - either being born overseas or with a parent born overseas.

And of the more than six million born overseas, almost 20 per cent have arrived since 2012.

More than six million Australians were born overseas. Source: AAP

England and New Zealand are still the most common countries of birth after Australia, but a growing number are born in China and India.

The census figures, released by the Australian Bureau of Statistics on Tuesday, identified more than 300 languages are being spoken in Australian homes.

After English, the most common languages are Mandarin, Arabic, Cantonese and Vietnamese.

Chief statistician David Kalisch insists the data is high quality, despite the problems that plagued the collection of the information in August when the bureau's online census website crashed.

The census had a response rate of 95 per cent he said, with 63 per cent completing it online.

Lamb out cold with strike

Bear family held after home break-in cool off in ice bath

Footage captures moments after chimp fell from tree in the US

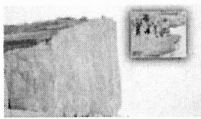

Brazen jewellery robbers knock down door of Melbourne home armed with 'eight-inch blade'

OUR PICKS

Daredevil tourists snap selfies on deadly cliff edge

Depp might have perjured himself over fugitive terriers: Joyce

GP loses licence for 'groping' girls as young as 12

'No direct evidence': Teen accused in Mason Lee case out on bail

St

MAKE IT WITH ADOBE STOCK.

Get 10 free images.

Start now

Feedback

Learn More

Europe River Cruising with more choices

Avalon Waterways Sponsored

"The independent assurance panel I established to provide extra assurance and transparency of census data quality concluded that the 2016 Census data can be used with confidence," he said.

- GP loses licence for 'groping' girls as young as 12
- Central Coast man's mysterious death being treated as murder
- 'No direct evidence': Teen accused in Mason Lee case out on bail

"Census data provides a detailed, accurate and fascinating picture of Australia, which will be used to inform critical policy, planning and service delivery decisions for our communities over the coming years."

Perth - Australia's fastest growing region

The figures showed two thirds of the population now live in capital cities, with five million in Sydney and four-and-a-half million in Melbourne.

Perth was the fastest growing region in Australia while the Tasmanian capital boasted the lowest housing costs, with the median weekly rent coming in at $260.

Darwin had the highest median weekly income at $1052 while Adelaide had the lowest at $617.

Australians still mainly live in capital cities. Source: AAP

Meanwhile, more Australians are identifying as Aboriginal or Torres Strait

MOST VIEWED

Car ploughs through skateboarders in Brazil

WATCH: Rampaging passenger launches violent, racist attack on bus driver

Branch-wielding man run down in Queensland carpark row

Weatherman blown away during live cross

Invest today and earn
3.80% p.a.³
Min $250K, conditions apply.
31 day notice period applies to term deposits.

INVEST TODAY

citi

Be

Entertainment & lifestyle
at your fingertips

Get the app

Advertise with us	Safety
Company info	Terms
Help	Jobs
Corporate	Privacy

↑
BACK TO TOP

Feedback

Islander, with 2.8 per cent in 2016 compared with 2.5 per cent in 2011.

The figures revealed the median age among the indigenous community was 23, compared with 38 for the non-indigenous population.

SHARE TWEET WHATSAPP EMAIL

24/7 news from Australia's No.1

Get the app

We Recommend

NBA trade tracker:
Rumors, reported trades
ahead of draft, free agency

Aussies over 50 Overpaying for Electricity

NBA Draft 2017: Live picks, results, grades from Round 1 and 2

Older Aussies Must Sort
Out Life Insurance in 2017

10 Greatest US Open Moments

Auckland. One City. Two Worlds.

Bellator 180 fight card in NYC: Sonnen vs. Silva schedule, PPV price

Here's How Sleep
Contributes to Your Family's Wellbeing

Travelers Championship
Leaderboard: Live scores from TPC River...

Should you be using super to invest?

powered by plista

LATEST FROM 7NEWS

Taxpayers foot bill as homeless stay in four-star hotels
Thousands of dollars spent to accommodate homeless people in $170 a night, four-star hotel rooms with harbour views.

This Device Lets You Watch Anything On Your TV
With over 1.5 million units sold worldwide, this is the best solution to watch your favourite movies and shows on your TV with no additional cost!

FreeSee TV Sponsored

Installer won't fix exploding glass that left four-year-old

'screaming and covered in blood'

Mother told 'these things happen' after boy is left 'screaming in agony'

Mystery surrounds ABC publicist's sudden death in India

The ABC has been rocked by the sudden death of publicist Chris Chamberlin while he was holidaying in India.

Salim Mehajer's companies 'owe more than $97m'

Salim Mehajer's companies owe more than $97 million, a judge has been told before granting a hearing to decide the validity of administrators' appointment.

Parents charged after kids, dead animals found in squalor

Two parents are facing a string of charges after police found a child locked in a room and two dogs, a cat, a rabbit, five parakeets and one turtle dead in a freezer.

Pension cap implications for retirees

Options for managing money that you can't hold in your tax-free pension after 1 July.

Dixon Advisory Sponsored

Aussies losing their religion as Islam soars by 160%

Islam is on the rise and more Australians are identifying as having no religion, according to the results of the 2016 Census.

SHAPED BY MOTION

Invest today and earn
3.80% p.a.³
Min $250K, conditions apply.
31 day notice period applies to term deposits.

INVEST TODAY

citi

Invest today and earn
3.30% p.a.²
Min $100K, conditions apply.
31 day notice period applies to term deposits.

INVEST TODAY

citi

Invest today and earn
3.80% p.a.¹
Min $250K, conditions apply.
31 day notice period applies to term deposits.

INVEST TODAY

citi