Subject: The burden on small charities like ours
Date: Thursday, 19 July 2018 1:11:17 PM

1. We welcome this inquiry into fundraising. Overwhelming, fundraising is a significant source of regulatory burden for our organisation. As a small charity it is a nightmare to navigate the current regulatory bodies. We desperately need for a national and fit-for-purpose fundraising regulatory regime.

2. We agree with the solution put forward by Justice Connect and #fixfundraising partners to #fixfundraising. This solution will deliver Stronger, Smarter, Simpler laws to support us (charities), and fundraisers and donors

3. The fundraising problem – and the need for a national and fit-for-purpose fundraising regulatory regime - has been well documented

4. What we need is for all Australian governments to take action to fix the problem. They must make it a priority. They must take action now. They must work together to provide us, other charities and other not-for-profits and the donating public with a national fundraising regulatory regime. The Federal Government can take a lead under the Australian Consumer Law. It is simply not good enough to do nothing. It's time to #fixfundraising. Please help be part of the solution.

Kind regards

Jac Van Velsen
