

Personally I agree there should be a simpler system but a federal only scheme makes more sense, as it:

- 1) Prevents the abuse of the system caused by having a direct benefit from giving an approval.
- 2) Standardises the approval process Australia wide.
- 3) Makes it easier to renegotiate international agreements on the environment with UN and other bodies.

Thanks for reading this,
Jessica Larkman