

I wish to oppose the 'Stronger Futures' legislation. I feel that it exacerbates discrimination against indigenous individuals and communities, and takes away their power to change their dire situation.

I suggest a changed policy, qualitatively different from the "N.T Intervention". This should be based around the fundamental right to determine one's own future, around negotiation with the indigenous local community, and with respect for indigenous culture and rights.

Equality of all people in Australia, indigenous or not, should be part of our Constitution.

Thankyou,

Yours Faithfully,
Robert Brocksopp,
