

First Name: Maria            Last Name: Fargher

As an Australian Citizen I have found that the immigration in the last 10 years has been appalling. You only need to go to the shopping mall and try and communicate with the ethnic groups who don't understand a word you're saying. I am a great believer that if you emigrate to a new country you should at least understand and speak clear English. This is not happening and it is difficult to communicate with these people. Not only do they not want to communicate but they really don't want to share their space also they want Australians to change their ways rather than the other way around. I have never even in all my life seen groups take over suburbs and forbid you from entering as if they have become separate countries within a country. No one should be allowed to become a citizen unless they have shown that they 1. Fully understand the English language

2. Speak fluent English

3. Have worked Full time in the last 10 years

4. Have proved that they have been able to mix with all types of people and are tolerant of all religions.

5. That they do not live in an enclave with their own kind.

6. Citizenship is not just given out it needs to be earned and they should be living and working in Australia 10 years becoming a citizen.

7. They should also honour our flag and our laws and our way of life.

8. They must also change their way of dress to encourage going for a job and no more covering their faces.
