

The Senate Committee

I think the Tasmanian bushfires are a good example of our weather getting hotter - it was the hottest on record and heat produces a tinder-dry countryside.

I would like you to make some headway on how we can address climate change in real terms, starting with no more coal-fired power.

Sincerely
Michael Mardel