

Australia is democratic country. And that's why it is Commonwealth of Australia. And we are proud of it and to be here, because I believes in democracy, everybody have right to speak.

But if you shall give the powers to only One man (Immigration minister). Then it is a one man show. Then we are not living in Commonwealth of Australia after that kind of bill we are living in the Kingdom of Australia.

Where one man have the right to do, what ever he thinks is right or wrong.

And the worst thing is that even nobody can go against his decision (tribunal).

I am pretty sure the senate will defiantly refuse to do so, because it is against the democracy values and Australia values.

Otherwise we can go and live under the king. And obey his rules and regulation.

Many thanks for giving me the rights to express my views.

Regards.
