

PARLIAMENT OF AUSTRALIA

Joint Standing Committee on the National Disability Insurance Scheme

MEDIA RELEASE

Inquiry into the integrity of the NDIS – submissions and hearings

Public hearings for the inquiry into the integrity of the National Disability Insurance Scheme will begin next Friday, examining the impact of fraud and non-compliance on participants, their families, carers and providers.

Joint Standing Committee on the NDIS Chair, Libby Coker MP, said the committee is focused on strengthening the Scheme to support choice, control and safety for people with disability, while ensuring its long-term sustainability.

The first hearing will be held at Parliament House and will focus on key government agencies, including those involved in the Fraud Fusion Taskforce, as well as the development and administration of the NDIS.

“The committee looks forward to holding further hearings during May to explore the experiences of the broader disability community with non-compliance and fraud in the NDIS,” Ms Coker said.

“We are committed to putting forward recommendations that help Australians with disability and their families receive the best possible support, and ensure the Scheme is sustainable into the future.”

Details of upcoming hearings will be published on the committee’s inquiry webpage. Further information about the inquiry and how to make a submission is also available online.

Submissions close on Friday, 24 April 2026, though late submissions may be accepted on a case-by-case basis. For enquiries, contact the JSC NDIS secretariat at ndis.joint@aph.gov.au.
