

legcon.sen@aph.gov.au

http://www.aph.gov.au/senate/committee/legcon_ctte/migration_amendment_visa_caping/index.htm

I against this bill

Dear sir/Madam:

My name is Mark Xie which already applied PR and still waiting the result for 1 year, the first reaction I heard this news is shocking, because as the traditional way, the new law will not effect the applicant who already applied, but this time it's really surprising .I don't want this law can pass by the parliament of house for the following reasons.

First, I'm the person who contribute to this country and accept the Australia value .

I Already study and work in Australia for nearly 5 years ,which include 2 years full-time study and nearly 3 years working, those years what I 'm doing is work and contribute to this country , the tax every year I paid maybe not such a big money but it is still represent my contribution to this country. No matter how the work hard and how the situation I meet I still think Australia is the country I should love and respect. But if this bill pass, that's really unfair to me who already applied PR and waiting.

Second, my continue stay in Australia will not bring the negative effects to this country, Why?

I am a well-educated person with skill and knowledge that the employer need, I working here will go on to pay more tax for this country , and I already buy the car , and next year I prepare buy the house ,that's all the good effects to this country's economy. So , I really hard to think how many people like me will suffer this if the bill pass and have to leave this country , the country we were used to be living.

The third thing, maybe not the most important but I still want to say ,

Australia is my second home-land , I love this country just like I love my family , and I have confidence to continue live here for the life.

As the above reasons I express, I am strongly hope the government heard those voice form us,

- 1 We are well-educated with skill and knowledge
- 2 We are contribute to this country by hard worki
- 3 We love this country just like our family

Then why kick us out without a reasonable excuse?

Cap Bill -UNFAIRTREATMENT

Thanks for your appreciate.

Your sincerely

Mark Xie