Hi

I am writing to express my opposition to the spending of government funds on wind farms. The experiment has been unsuccessful in Europe so it is clear to see that this is a waste of our money. They are being installed in country areas against the wishes of local residents for the benefit of city dwellers upon whom they will have little effect. Perhaps some of these towers should be installed in suburban Melbourne as a test of the true support of these policies.

Regards

John Holliday