QUINOLINE VETERANS AND FAMILIES ASSOCIATION

SUPPLEMENTARY SUBMISSION TO THE FOREIGN AFFAIRS, DEFENCE AND TRADE REFERENCES COMMITTEE INQUIRY INTO THE USE OF THE QUINOLINE ANTI-MALARIAL DRUGS MEFLOQUINE AND TAFENOQUINE IN THE AUSTRALIAN DEFENCE FORCE

Mr Stuart McCarthy, 5 September 2018

Introduction

QVFA thanks the Committee for their continued efforts with this inquiry. During the Committee's recent hearing in Brisbane I was asked to comment on the numbers of personnel in the 1 RAR Battalion Group in East Timor who did not participate in the 2000-01 Army Malaria Institute (AMI) tafenoquine-mefloquine clinical trial. In refuting the evidence from many members of 1 RAR that they were ordered to volunteer for this trial or be excluded from the deployment, Defence has stated that a large proportion of the battalion group did deploy to East Timor despite not volunteering for the trial. This supplementary submission provides additional evidence and identifies additional witnesses to assist the Committee to inquire into whether there was a policy in 1 RAR for eligible personnel who did not volunteer for this trial to be excluded from the East Timor deployment.

Composition of the 1 RAR Battalion Group

Please find attached the nominal roll for the 1 RAR Battalion Group in East Timor 2000-01 (Attachment 1). This publicly available document identifies individuals who were posted to 1 RAR and individuals who were attached to 1 RAR from supporting units to constitute the 1 RAR Battalion Group. The event/s relevant to the question as to whether 1 RAR personnel were ordered to participate in the AMI clinical trial took place in Australia, prior to the battalion group's deployment to East Timor. Notwithstanding the question as to whether alleged order constituted a lawful order, in this setting the commanding officer had full command of the soldiers posted to his unit (1 RAR) but did not yet have command of the personnel who were being attached to 1 RAR (from supporting units) to constitute the 1 RAR Battalion Group. The significance of this is that many of the 1 RAR Battalion Group (vice members of the battalion itself) individuals identified by Defence as having deployed to East Timor despite declining to volunteer for the trial will have been members of the attached supporting elements. I also note that one of the findings of the IGADF inquiry into this matter is that some 1 RAR personnel who were excluded from the trial for medical or administrative reasons but still deployed to East Timor.

The 2000-01 Posting Cycle

During the Committee's recent hearing in Townsville, Lieutenant General (ret) Caligari stated that many members of 1 RAR were posted out of the battalion during the December-January posting cycle. He further stated that these individuals deployed with his unit to East Timor but were excluded from the trial because it was known that they would not have been able to complete the trial. Logically, for the purpose of this inquiry 1 RAR personnel could be categorised as follows:

- Those who served in 1 RAR for the duration of the East Timor deployment and were enrolled in the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial.
- Those who were excluded from the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial because they were due to be posted out of 1 RAR part way through the deployment.
- Those who were excluded from the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial for medical or other administrative reasons.

- Those who did not participate in the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial because they were posted into 1 RAR part way through the East Timor deployment, i.e. several months after the trial had commenced.

I am not aware of any publicly available testimony from 1 RAR members who were not due to be posted out of the battalion during this posting cycle and declined to volunteer for the trial but still deployed to East Timor. In the absence of such evidence I believe that Defence's assertion that 1 RAR personnel were not ordered to volunteer for the trial based purely on the numbers of 1 RAR Battalion Group personnel who did not participate in the trial is unsubstantiated, indeed it may be misleading.

Additional Witnesses

In Submission 80 to this inquiry I note that a member of General Caligari's staff during this period has stated that a number of the 1 RAR company commanders raised their concerns about the alleged order for 1 RAR personnel to volunteer for the trial:

> I remember clearly the commanding officer instructing all company Commanders (OCs) that all soldiers of the battalion group were to take part in the anti-malaria trials or they would not deploy. Several of the OCs asked if it was wise to order soldiers to take part in this trial, the CO informed the OCs that he had been instructed by higher headquarters that every member of the battalion group deploying will volunteer for the drug trials.

The 1 RAR nominal roll identifies the following individuals who held key appointments in the battalion at that time:

- 1 RAR Second-in-Command – Major S.A. Ferndale.
- 1 RAR Operations Officer – Major A.D. Gallaway.
- Officer Commanding A Company – Major J.P. Patten-Richens.
- Officer Commanding B Company – Major A.J. Egan.
- Officer Commanding C Company – Major P.J. Connolly. Colonel Connolly is a serving Army officer, currently studying at the Australian National University under the Chief of Army's Scholarship.
- Officer Commanding D Company – Major W.B. Stothart. Brigadier Stothart is a serving Army officer, awarded the Conspicuous Service Cross on Queen's Birthday 2018 "for outstanding achievement in significant contributions to the reform and improvement of career management and the Army people capability as Director General Career Management – Army".
- Officer Commanding Support Company – Major M.A. Mumford.
- Officer Commanding Admin Company – Major J.A. Ryan.

My recommendation would be for Brigadier Stothart, Colonel Connolly and any other available members of the 1 RAR command team be called as witnesses, providing evidence about the 1 RAR policy for enrolling personnel in the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial.

I also recommend that this Committee critically analyse the IGADF Inquiry Report into this matter, which relied on the evidence of eight members of the 1 RAR command group to find that CO 1 RAR did not order members of his unit to participate in the trial:

> FINDING 26: Evidence received from eight witnesses who held key command appointments within the battalion was that the trial was voluntary, and none of those eight witnesses ever > heard CO 1 RAR give a direction or make a threat to the battalion soldiers using words to the effect if they did not participate in the trial they would not deploy.

The redacted but publicly available IGADF Inquiry Report quotes evidence from these eight witnesses, which can be broadly categorised as follows:

- General Caligari.
- Two officers who were excluded from the trial because they were due to be posted out of 1 RAR in December/January or for other administrative reasons.
- Three officers who were members of the 1 RAR command team at the time of the alleged order and were interviewed during the inquiry.
- Two officers who were members of the 1 RAR command team at the time of the alleged order and answered the inquiry officer's questions via email.

I also note from the IGADF Inquiry Report that five of these eight witnesses stated that they had only "vague", "poor", "very poor" or "little" memory of the events relating to the alleged order for 1 RAR personnel to volunteer for the trial.

One of the three witnesses who stated that he had a clear memory of these events testified to the IGADF Inquiry (p. 43, paragraph 196):

> I clearly remember on the day when I was being interviewed to sign the form that the soldiers with me had to be directed to read the information as they just wanted to sign it and move on to the next part*.*

The IGADF Inquiry Report also states that I identified six witnesses who were willing to testify to the effect that they were ordered to participate in the trial or they would be excluded from the deployment. What the IGADF Inquiry Report omits is the fact that I provided the inquiry officer with the names and contact details of 35 witnesses. The decision to interview only six of the 1 RAR witnesses was made by the inquiry officer. A number of those witnesses have made written submissions to this Committee's inquiry and some have testified at public hearings. By contrast, the members of the 1 RAR command team interviewed by the IGADF inquiry officer (excluding General Caligari) who stated they have a clear recollection of these events remain anonymous (their names are redacted from the IGADF Inquiry Report).

For these and other reasons the IGADF Inquiry Report lacks credibility and I encourage the Committee to draw its own conclusions based on written submissions to this inquiry and those witnesses who are prepared to testify in public.

Conclusion

Based on the available evidence, my assessment is that most if not all of the 1 RAR Battalion Group personnel who deployed to East Timor but did not participate in the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine clinical trial will likely have been:

- Those who were excluded from the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial because they were due to be posted out of 1 RAR part way through the deployment.
- Those who were excluded from the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial for medical or other administrative reasons.

- Those who did not participate in the AMI tafenoquine-mefloquine trial because they were posted into 1 RAR part way through the East Timor deployment, i.e. several months after the trial had commenced.

- Members of the attached supporting elements (i.e. not posted members of 1 RAR) who were not obliged to obey an administrative order from CO 1 RAR during the time of the enrolment because they were not yet under his command.

I trust that this evidence and the additional witnesses will assist the Committee with its ongoing inquiry.
