

Submission: The harms of internet pornography on our children and young people.

Thank you for having this discussion.

I believe it is overdue. Pornography is too easy to access through the internet.

I believe our children do not need to be confronted by pornography. It seems to me that the increase in domestic violence may be, at least partially, attributed to children, young men and boys, been exposed to pornography.

If access is reduced or eliminated then young people have a better chance of developing good strong relationships with their partners based on love and respect.

To ease the burden of domestic violence on society, please limit internet pornography.

Thanking You
