RE: Questions on Notice

Dear Committee Secretary

Please find enclosed responses to the questions on notice provided on 11 January by Senator Barbara Pocock in her role as a member of the Senate Finance and Public Administration Reference Committee.

Yours sincerely,

Mark Nixon
EY Oceania Government and Public Sector Consulting Leader

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

- 1) Please provide in excel format the following:
  - a. Each APS and state/territory public sector contract awarded to your firm from FY13 to FY23, by jurisdiction.
  - b. The initial tendered value of each contract and the final total amount billed.
  - c. Whether each contract was subject to public, select/limited tender or was sole/directly sourced.
  - d. A brief description of the service provided.
  - e. The name of the partner responsible for each engagement.

EY's response is as follows:

This request covers more than 2,660 individual contracts with the APS alone, each of which is subject to strict confidentiality requirements, particularly those conducted under the MAS panel. This is in addition to the state/territory public sector contracts which are subject to their own strict confidentiality requirements.

Each contract would require the consent of the department responsible for the engagement to release, and would also require significant access to historical records to identify initial tendered values, sourcing method and services provided.

To assist the Committee with its inquiry, we have prepared in excel format information retrieved from public contract notices for each APS and state/territory notices where made available by the state/territory in response to question 1a, responses to 1b, 1c and 1d where possible.

It is possible that each APS and state/territory public sector entity stores this information, and EY would consent to this information being shared with the Committee.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

- 2) Please provide details of all client-focused committees, teams, forums or other meetings or discussions, however named, convened to focus on particular agencies, public utilities and/or departments; commonly called 'client service teams' but may be called any other name, in the past two years.

EY's response is as follows:

EY manages client-focused committees, teams, forums or other meetings or discussions through our Markets team. This is a structure that is consistent across EY globally.

Oceania Markets is responsible for managing the 'demand' side of our business and in relation to our public sector client base, responsible for responding to tender activity.

In Oceania, we go to market through four segments:

- Built Environment & Resources (BEaR)
- Consumer
- Government & Health Sciences
- Financial Services Organisations

The 'supply' side of our business is managed by EY Oceania's Service Lines, which provide the staff and partners who team together to respond to the service demand from our clients.

Our four Service Lines are:

- Consulting
- Assurance
- Tax
- Strategy & Transactions

The Markets function across Oceania is overseen by the Oceania Markets Board, chaired by the Oceania Markets Leader, Jenelle McMaster.

Jenelle is a member of the Oceania Executive Leadership Team and, consistent with our Global governance structure has a dual reporting line to our Oceania CEO, and our Asia Pacific Markets Leader.

The Oceania Government & Health Sciences Market Segment Leader is Catherine Friday, and the Government & Health Sciences Market Segment is organised into six industries or 'sectors':

- Central Agencies
- Defence
- Education
- Human Services
- Health & Life Sciences
- Transport

Not all clients within the Government & Health Sciences are agencies or state-owned entities.

Industry Leaders are responsible for understanding demand in their industry, and responding to this demand with tailored service offerings that support the client's objectives and needs.

We apply the same approach to all of our clients, as they expect us to bring a coordinated, 'whole of EY' approach to their services.

EY's Industry Leader for the Federal Public Sector is Mark Nixon.

Within each market segment, there are a number of Focus Clients, who will each have a dedicated Client Service Team, led by the Client Service Partner.

The Client Service Partner also plays a critical role, as outlined on page 8 of our submission to this inquiry, in managing conflicts of interest when they arise in consultation with EY's Conflicts team.

EY's approach to client management in the Federal Public Sector is first to understand through the Portfolio Budget Statements the allocations of each agency or department to specific projects. The Client Service Partner is then responsible for identifying projects that may come to tender in the year, and identifying the teams within EY that could respond to this demand.

In some instances, respective departments may issue Annual Procurement Plans as to the future tender activities aligned to these projects. The departments issue these plans to alert the market to their requirements, which then allows service providers to develop the right skills and provide the right global experience to assist in the delivery of these complex projects.

This structured client planning process relies on EY's Client Service Partners having a deep understanding of the policy priorities of the government, the priorities of the department or agency and the personnel leading projects that EY is engaged on within the department or agency.

In FY24, EY has the following Federal Government Focus Client teams in place:

- Commonwealth of Australia
- Department of Defence
- Services Australia
- Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade
- Department of Education
- Department of Home Affairs
- Australian Tax Office
- Department of Infrastructure & Regional Development
- Department of Social Services
- Department of Health & Aged Care

Each Focus Client team is expected to meet at least monthly, and the Industry Leader will convene a Federal Public Sector client planning session quarterly.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

- 3) Please provide all instances of relationship maps, power maps or any other representations of public sector officials used in context of each of those forums identified in the answer to question 2, in the last two years.

EY's response is as follows:

As EY shared with the Committee in response to written questions from Senator Deborah O'Neill to EY on 9 August 2023, EY does not engage in 'power mapping.'

These forums would accordingly not use power maps to inform their discussions.

EY maintains organizational charts of client organisations to help inform client planning, including in the public sector, and these would be utilized in the forums identified in response to question two. For public sector departments and agencies, we rely on the organisational charts that are publicly available through websites.

EY expects – as do our clients across public and private sectors – our client-serving partners to maintain strong working relationships with, and knowledge of, client departments and agencies to enable us to deliver an effective service.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

4. Please provide all instances of 'sales', 'revenue', 'work won' and/or billing targets or achievements, relevant to each public sector client or potential client/s identified in the answer to question 2, in the past two years.

EY's response is as follows:

All sales, revenue and work won by EY, which meet the reporting thresholds defined in the Commonwealth Procurement Rules, are recorded in AusTender and other public facing websites used to compile our response to question one.

For the past two years, the Focus Clients have secured the following new contracts according to AusTender data, which excludes contract extensions if these are recorded in the year the original contract was awarded:

Focus Client	CY22/CY23 Combined Contract Awards
Commonwealth of Australia (includes the departments below)	$397,012,996
Department of Defence	$176,320,186
Services Australia	$76,192,776
Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade	$2,488,532
Department of Education	$798,094
Department of Home Affairs	$31,249,759
Australian Tax Office	$2,347,865
Department of Infrastructure & Regional Development	$4,606,948
Department of Social Services	$939,382
Department of Health & Aged Care	$20,163,033

Client teams do not have billing targets, as utilization is the responsibility of Service Lines. Client teams are responsible for sales targets at a client level.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

5. Please provide the name/s and level of each partner or any other member of your business who plays or who has played since 1 January 2023, a 'client lead partner' role in respect of each public sector client or potential client.

EY's response is as follows:

The following partners have played a Client Service Partner role for a public sector client or potential client since 1 January 2023.

Focus Client	CSP
Commonwealth of Australia	Mark Nixon
Department of Defence	Norrie McDonald
Services Australia	Andrew Garner
Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade	Darrin Grimsey
Department of Education	Susana Fior
Department of Home Affairs	Kim Brennan
Australian Tax Office	Permenthri Pillay
Department of Infrastructure & Regional Development	Neal Johnston
Department of Social Services	Louise McDonald
Department of Health & Aged Care	Emma Buchanan

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

6. Please provide in detail the purpose and function of each client lead partner, in respect of each public sector client, as listed in answer to question 5.

EY's response is as follows:

Client Service Partners are responsible for managing relationships with our clients.

The roles and responsibilities of a Client Service Partners are expected to:

1. Demonstrate deep knowledge of the client's strategy and business issues, as well as the industry/sector they operate in. They identify areas that EY can add most value, as well as service line solutions that would benefit the client.
2. Proactively build and manage high impact client relationships, providing leadership and a high quality client service.
3. Team with service line client teams to identify strategic opportunities that deliver the value for the client and revenue opportunities for EY, investing in the client for success.
4. Lead the development, maintenance and execution of a high-quality client plan that draws on the full scope of EY services, skills and experiences
5. Lead engagement partners to develop revenue and margin plans across the client, supported by disciplined sales and pipeline management
6. Builds and maintains a diverse and high performing client team, coaching and developing team members to develop high-value client relationships and deliver Exceptional Client Service

The role of private and public sector Client Service Partners is broadly similar, however, public sector Client Service Partners are most accountable for their ability to grow EY's share of tenders won from each Focus Client, manage potential conflicts of interest (working closely with our Risk Management and Independence teams) and use their deep knowledge of policy priorities to build teams with the right skills, and bring the global experience that can more effectively win, and deliver a high quality service.

This function is identical across every public sector client referenced in question 5.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

7. Please identify the role of these client lead partners in respect of any of those forums identified by your answer to question 2.

EY's response is as follows:

The Client Service Partners identified in question six are all participants in the Federal Public Sector client planning, and responsible for running their own forums for each Focus Client.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

8. Please provide in excel format details of all expenditure that benefited public sector officials or departments/entities from FY13 to FY23, detailing the following:
  1. The amount of expenditure each year, by the official's agency and jurisdiction
  2. What the expenditure was incurred for (eg entertainment, event hosting, conference or sporting tickets, travel and accommodation to attend conferences etc).
  3. In respect of each please advise who attended from your firm and the level and agency (but not name) of the official/s in attendance.

EY's response is as follows:

This question is best directed at departments, as each department maintains their own records and EY does not store this information.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

9. Please provide in excel format details of all expenditure that benefited elected political officials, from FY13 to FY23, detailing the following:
  - a. The amount of expenditure each year, by the beneficiary/i.e. agency and jurisdiction
  - b. What the expenditure was incurred for (e.g. entertainment, event hosting, conference or sporting tickets, travel and accommodation to attend conferences etc).
  - c. In respect of each please advise who attended from your firm and the name and any parliamentary or executive roles held by each politician in attendance.

EY's response is as follows:

EY attends ticketed events, provides sponsorship and maintains membership of political forums as part of our engagement with policy makers, participation which is critical to maintaining our understanding of government policy and anticipate the future needs of Commonwealth and State Governments.

As is our long-standing policy, EY does not provide any cash donations to political parties or individuals. EY reports our membership fees of various political forums, as well as tickets purchased to political events and sponsorship of events to the AEC and State Regulators as required by law.

We have provided our annual AEC donor return for the available periods.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

10. In respect of the Department of Finance's recent MAS panel refresh please provide:
- a. Your complete answers regarding any adverse findings or comments regarding ethical or professional issues.
  - b. Confirm whether any of your referees received hospitality or benefits contained in your answer to question 8 above.

EY's response is as follows:

We would direct the Senator to query the Department of Finance for information relating to the MAS panel refresh.

Senator Barbara Pocock asked EY the following question, upon notice, on 11 January 2024:

11. Do you wish to amend or correct any aspect of the evidence you have provided to the Committee in prior appearances, written submissions, correspondence, and answers on notice?
12. If you wish to correct any evidence previously provided, please provide a detailed written explanation of the change and the reason/s for that change.

EY's response is as follows:

No.
