Driverless Vehicles inquiry in Melbourne

Tuesday 11 April 2017 Public Hearing in Melbourne

The Parliamentary Innovations Committee will be in Melbourne on Tuesday to hold a public hearing into its driverless vehicles inquiry.

Committee Chair, Michelle Landry MP, said the Committee will hear from witnesses discussing a wide range of issues relating to driverless vehicles, including questions regarding safety, legal liability, increased mobility and public transport uses and technical advances.

The Committee Chair commented that “the Committee’s inquiry has raised some interesting and important questions about the social impacts relating to driverless vehicles, and the Committee is looking forward to witnesses exploring those with us”.

Witnesses appearing at the Committee’s hearing are:

- Academy of Technology and Engineering
- National Transport Commission
- Austroads
- Bosch
- Office of the National Rail Safety Regulator
- Toyota
- Maurice Blackburn Lawyers
- Australian Driverless Vehicles Initiative
- iMove CRC

“The Committee’s inquiry has received some fascinating and thoughtful submissions from a broad range of organisations,” Ms Landry noted, “Our hearing in Melbourne will help the Committee to understand some of the complex issues arising from driverless vehicles”.
