nmunications and Other Legislation Amendment (Assistance Submission 6

This legislation to force the installation

To Whom It May Concern, of backchannels into Australian devices is anti-democratic, in my opinion. It broadens already existing surveillance measures beyond what's acceptable; it is government overreach, and if our Government were to become ideologically extremist in our future, this legislation could be exploited to destroy rational dissent and patriotic resistance. It is a corruption of our nation's values to degrade our population's right to privacy. I do not approve of this legislation, and believe it should be thrown out. Regards,
