

Sirs/Ma'ams,

I wish to registers objection to any changes to legislation which may increase the risk to animals suffering cruelty, including making surveillance by animal groups gathering evidence a possibly criminal act.

I would support legislation that increases penalties for those found committing acts of animal cruelty, banning animal testing practices and providing appropriate support to animal welfare agencies to better investigate and manage actual or suspected acts of animal cruelty.

Regards,
Stephanie Tyrrell