For too long, Rupert Murdoch has had a monopoly over what we see and what we believe. This is flat out Orwellian in nature, and Australia should not be a nation where we are told to believe only 1 side of the story. Murdoch tells us that us Victorians are fed up with Dan Andrews, even though his opinion polls are higher than when he won in 2018. This would be fine if it was just 1 new company, but no, it is all new companies except the ABC, who isn't even pro-Andrews. This is not diversity, this is not fair media coverage, this is Orwellian at its core, and if this is what it takes to finally throw Murdoch and his friends in high places like Tony out the window, it will have my full support.
