Submission re Vaccine Indemnity Bill

It is outrageous that indemnity was granted to pharmaceutical manufacturers during the covid era for their 'vaccines', thereby shifting costs and future liabilities to the taxpayer for vaccine injuries, which are not at all rare.

Indemnity exemption is privatising the profits while making the community bare the costs.

Now the truth is surfacing that these vaccines were:-

1. Ineffective in preventing receiving covid
2. " " " transmission
3. " " ameliorating symptoms
4. Caused more harm than good i.e. no cost/benefit analysis undertaken before mandating the jabs
5. Often contaminated during the rushed production process

This disastrous fiasco must not be repeated.

A significant step to achieve this is to pin responsibility for their products onto the transnational drug companies

Letting them duck responsibility via government grants of indemnity was disgraceful political opportunism.
