

I wish to strongly object to wind turbines being installed closer than 2 miles to the nearest dwelling, Bird or Bat fly path or feeding station.

Please will the following issues be considered seriously.

The full implications of true environmental damage and impact, of turbines, particularly damage to the earth and communities in China.

Full cost in the building, transport and installation.

Full cost of transporting of the electricity to and into the National Grid, both ecologically and financially.

Because wind is unreliable, large developments are unviable.

Yours Most Sincerely.

Barbara Powell.

Damage to the earth crust with resultant leakage from underground water reservoirs

Harmful noise to people, birds and animals

Harmful vibrations to the above.