

Australian Parliament
Joint Standing Committee on Migration
Submission no. 153

My sister lives in one of the south western suburbs of Sydney. In the early 1990s the south west area had Chinese, Koreans and Indians. The suburbs still had the remnants of its once big Greek community. However since then the area has changed for the worse. There has been a growth of extremely violent crime, a pervasive atmosphere of anti-social behaviour and the simultaneous growth of fundamental Islamic culture that does not respect Australian laws or values. These Muslims do not assimilate into society well, have higher unemployment rates, much higher criminal rates and wish to force their Sharia law onto Australians.

Australia should not encourage Muslims into Australia as it will only lead to the problems that a high Muslim population in European countries have experienced. This is not an issue of race, as Muslims from many different countries still cause these sorts of problems.

I urge you to read the report at

Yours sincerely,
