

Australian Parliament
Joint Standing Committee on Migration
Submission no. 160

Dear Sir/Madam,

A short note from an immigratant who is now an Australian by CHOICE.

This is the best country in the world to live in because in you can express your culture and still live free of the repression of intimidation from the state. This is a country based on Christian standards (long may it remain so) and the associated freedoms.

We welcome immigrants, and their ethnic diversity, but we encourage them to accept Australian values. We expect all Australian citizens and residents to be tolerant of ethnic values, but to remember that above all we are to be AUSTRALIAN.

We do not except that as Australians we have to change our worldview to match that of our new arrivals, the reverse should be the norm.

Yours .(Aussie by choice.)
