

Dear Sir

I am amazed that you can still support multiculturalism when countries like Denmark, Sweden, France, Holland, Germany and England to mention a few, say that it has failed .

You should move to the western suburbs of Sydney and see what is happening there in particular when dealing with the Muslim population. I am sure you would change your mind.

The average person will do nothing until it affects them personally. By then it is too late; one only has to look back at history. Hitler, is one you should look at.

Sorry that I have to send you this letter about my feelings but I know I speak for real Australians so please don't put your head in the sand; DO something!

An Old Australian,
