

Dear Brothers of the English-Speaking Union,

Because your population is so much smaller than ours in the U.S. you are in more imminent danger from Islamization than are we. Nonetheless, because of the presence of large numbers of "useful idiots" in both of our countries who are willing to help the Islamists in the name of "equality" or "multiculturalism" or some such, the danger is real and requires knowledgeable opponents in both places. Just one example: Here in Oklahoma, in last November's election, we voted by a two-to-one margin for a state constitutional amendment put forward through the process of initiative to require that state judges use only Oklahoma or U.S. law in their decisions, eschewing Shariah or other foreign law. CAIR, an "unindicted codefendant" in the largest antiterrorism finance case so far in the U.S., appealed to a federal judge who issued a permanent injunction against the will of the people, the so-called rulers of the American democracy.

These people -- the Moslems -- will not rest until they have divided our countries through their demand that we accept their law -- only for family law at first; for murder of wives and daughters and such minor transgressions. Then, both literally and figuratively, the camel's nose will be under the tent, and the only way to stop the Islamization of our nations will be civil war, if the non-Moslems still have the intestinal fortitude for it.

Wake up, Australia! The earlier you do, the less blood will be shed -- not only Australians' but Moslems' as well.
