

To whom this may concern:

We feel that Australia is the best country in the world.

We welcome people from other countries to come to Australia, and make it their home. We like them to share the good parts of their particular culture with us so that we can learn how others live, but accept ours as their new way of living, just as we would need to accept their way of living if we went to live in their country. We have friends who have come to make our country their country, and they have accepted our way of living and our lives are the richer for knowing them.

Our country is based on, and was founded on Christian values, and we have all grown up with this, and we feel this is very important for our country to remain this way. We want for our children, and our grandchildren, those same Christian values. While ever these values remain for our guide for living, we will have a country that we can all be proud of.

Thank you,
