GENTLEMEN:

- 1. It affords me much pleasure on this, my first meeting with the Third Parliament of the Commonwealth, to be able to congratulate you on a period of unprecedented prosperity throughout the continent. Bountiful harvests, accompanied by an expansion of the pastoral, dairying, and mining industries, promise a continuance of the present flourishing condition of Australia.
- 2. Your attendance has been required at this date in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, and for the purpose of enabling My Advisers to meet Parliament.
- 3. A third Conference of Prime Ministers of the self-governing portions of the Empire has been summoned to assemble in London in April next. Many subjects of far-reaching importance will be submitted, a discussion of which should encourage the development of trade and commerce between the component parts of the Empire, lead to a wider and more intimate knowledge of our common interests, and strengthen the bonds of union between the United Kingdom and His Majesty's Dominions beyond the seas.
- 4. In order to obtain as much uniformity as is feasible, and to remove ambiguities in shipping legislation, the Imperial Government invited the Governments of Australia and New Zealand to appoint special representatives to confer with those nominated for the United Kingdom in London in the month of March. Ministers have accepted this invitation, in order that this interchange of views may assist you in the early exercise of your powers of legislation with respect to navigation and shipping.
- 5. When the last Parliament was prorogued, a Conference of State Ministers was sitting in Melbourne. Their discussion of the Federal financial situation, which was adjourned until this year, has not yet been resumed. My Advisers are anxious to lay before you as soon as circumstances permit a proposition determining the financial relations of the Commonwealth and the States between themselves and to the holders of their securities. This is a most important matter in itself, and because it affects great issues such as the nationalization of old-age pensions.
- 6. The Royal Commission of inquiry into the administration and settlement of Papua has presented a valuable Report, the recommendations of which are being examined, with a view to giving effect to them.
- 7. An examination of such of the Reports of the Tariff Commission as have been presented is now in progress, and prompt consideration will be given to the remainder when they are received.
- 8. You will be called together again as soon as possible, in order that you may consider the legislative proposals laid before the electors, comprising, among others, measures to place our national industries upon a sound and permanent basis, under equitable conditions; to develop the latent resources of the continent; promote trade relations within the Empire; make adequate provision for our defences; and augment the population of Australia by a judicious encouragement of immigration. The general agreement which My Advisers have arrived at with the Government of the State of South Australia for the transfer to the Commonwealth of the Northern Territory will also be then submitted for your approval:

11. Address in Reply to His Excellency the Governor-General's Speech .- Mr. Deakin moved, That a Committee, consisting of Mr. Wise, Mr. John Thomson, Mr. Chanter, and Mr. Storrer, be appointed to prepare an Address in Reply to the Speech delivered by His Excellency the Governor-General to both Houses of the Parliament.
