2. THE WAR: CONGRATULATIONS BETWEEN FRANCE AND AUSTRALIA.—Mr. Watt, by leave, read to the House the following cablegrams:—

[Copy of cablegram sent by the Acting Prime Minister to the Prime Minister of France, dated 7th November, 1918.]

I have the honour to acknowledge your cordial message delivered by the head of the French Mission, General Pau. Australia feels proud to receive the congratulations of your brave and noble nation. The admiration and gratitude which you are generous enough to express to Australia for the valour of her troops now fighting in the cause of liberty and justice on French soil will find pleasurable acceptance by all classes of the community. Our returning soldiers are full of praise of the French people for their great sacrifices, and of admiration of their French comrades in arms for their heroic deeds and steadfast courage. Australians feel that centuries cannot repay the debt the world owes patient undaunted France. We read with peculiar pleasure your assurance that the peoples of France and Australia are animated by the same ideals and aspirations and the same fraternal sympathy. May I be permitted to express the hope that this sentiment will develop into an indissoluble bond of free nations tending to the maintenance of peace and civilization.

[Copy of cablegram received by the Acting Prime Minister from M. Clemenceau, Prime Minister of France.]

Your eloquent message will touch the hearts of all the French people, and I am happy in replying to it on the day of victory. I wish to thank you for all you have done for our great cause. Both the soldiers and civilians of Australia have well merited the gratitude of humanity. Our friendship strengthened by sacrifice, supported by the same courage, will continue to grow stronger in peace for the good of the world.
