

Reference guide

Act

Acts are numbered on an annual basis in the order of assent and are bound in annual volumes. Acts of the Parliament 1901-1973 are consolidated. A reference to an Act, e.g. Judiciary Act 1903, refers to that Act as originally enacted and as amended from time to time (see also Acts Citation Act 1976). Reference to an Act other than a principal Act usually includes the Act number and the year of enactment.

Odgers

J. R. Odgers, Australian Senate Practice, 5th edition, AGPS, Canberra 1976 (current). Also published as PP 1 (1976).

PP

Parliamentary Paper. Parliamentary papers are those papers which have been presented to either House of the Parliament and which have been ordered to be printed. From 1901 until 1967 Parliamentary papers were numbered and bound according to sessions. References are to number/session/page (of paper, not volume), e.g. PP 32 (1964-66) 27. Since 1967 papers are numbered consecutively for each year and are bound and indexed in annual volumes and are therefore referred to by year not session.

Prior to 1963 certain papers relating solely to either the House or Senate were designated H of R or S and (prior to 1961) were published only in the Votes and Proceedings or Journals volumes respectively. These papers are designated H of R or S, e.g. H of R 1 (1962-63) 43 and S 2 (1954-55) 24.

A sessional index to all papers presented in either House is included in the sessional volumes of the Votes and Proceedings. The First Consolidated Index to the Papers Presented to Parliament 1901-1949 is PP 100 (1954-55). PP 375 (1964-66) comprises the 6th General Index (ten year periods) to the papers presented to Parliament between 1950 and 1961. The 7th General Index of papers presented to Parliament from 1962 to 1972 is in the course of preparation.
