

INFORMATION, ANALYSIS
AND ADVICE FOR THE PARLIAMENT

INFORMATION AND RESEARCH SERVICES

Bills Digest
No. 157 2002–03

Appropriation Bill (No. 2) 2003–2004

ISSN 1328-8091

© Copyright Commonwealth of Australia 2003

Except to the extent of the uses permitted under the Copyright Act 1968, no part of this publication may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means including information storage and retrieval systems, without the prior written consent of the Department of the Parliamentary Library, other than by Senators and Members of the Australian Parliament in the course of their official duties.

This paper has been prepared for general distribution to Senators and Members of the Australian Parliament. While great care is taken to ensure that the paper is accurate and balanced, the paper is written using information publicly available at the time of production. The views expressed are those of the author and should not be attributed to the Information and Research Services (IRS). Advice on legislation or legal policy issues contained in this paper is provided for use in parliamentary debate and for related parliamentary purposes. This paper is not professional legal opinion. Readers are reminded that the paper is not an official parliamentary or Australian government document. IRS staff are available to discuss the paper's contents with Senators and Members and their staff but not with members of the public.

Inquiries

Members, Senators and Parliamentary staff can obtain further information from the Information and Research Services on (02) 6277 2646.

Information and Research Services publications are available on the ParlInfo database. On the Internet the Department of the Parliamentary Library can be found at:
<http://www.aph.gov.au/library/>

Published by the Department of the Parliamentary Library, 2003

I N F O R M A T I O N   A N D   R E S E A R C H   S E R V I C E S

Bills Digest
No. 157 2002-03

Appropriation Bill (No. 2) 2003-2004

Richard Webb and Peter Prince
Economics, Commerce and Industrial Relations and Law and Bills
Digest Groups

Contents

Purpose. . . . .	1
Background. . . . .	1
Main Provisions . . . . .	2
Endnotes. . . . .	3

Appropriation Bill (No. 2) 2003–2004

Date Introduced: 13 May 2003

House: House of Representatives

Portfolio: Finance and Administration

Commencement: Royal Assent

Purpose

To appropriate $5 528 876 000 for payments for purposes other than the ordinary services of government, including capital expenditure, administered expenses for new outcomes, and grants to the States and Territories.

Background

Under section 83 of the Constitution, no monies may be drawn from Treasury except 'under an appropriation made by law'. The annual Appropriation Bills—Appropriation Bill (No. 1) 2003-04, Appropriation Bill (No. 2) 2003-04 and Appropriation (Parliamentary) Departments Bill (No. 1) 2003-04—are introduced in May each year for the annual appropriations of government. When additional funds are needed later in the year, it is usual for further Appropriation Bills to be introduced; these are commonly known as the additional estimates. Annual appropriations comprise approximately 30 per cent of government expenditure. The remaining 70 per cent is funded from special (or standing) appropriations. An example of a special appropriation is spending on the age pension that is funded under the Social Security (Administration) Act 1999.

Appropriation Bill (No. 1) provides for the appropriation of money from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for the ordinary annual services of government. Appropriation Bill (No. 2) provides for the appropriation of money for purposes other than the ordinary services of government (for example, departmental capital, administered expenses for new agency outcomes, and grants to the States and Territories). The division of items between the Bills accords with the 1965 'compact' between the House of Representatives and the Senate.

It should be noted that administered expenses<sup>1</sup> for new outcomes that are not funded through special appropriations are funded through Appropriation Bill (No. 2). Once Parliament has passed Appropriation Bill (No. 2), these new programs become part of the ordinary annual services of government and are included in Appropriation Bill (No. 1) for the following year (assuming they are on-going).

Warning:

This Digest was prepared for debate. It reflects the legislation as introduced and does not canvass subsequent amendments.

This Digest does not have any official legal status. Other sources should be consulted to determine the subsequent official status of the Bill.

An overview of the process and context of appropriation bills can be found in a Department of the Parliamentary Library publication The Commonwealth Budget: Process and Presentation.<sup>2</sup>

The data on spending under Appropriation Bill (No. 2) is highly aggregated and so of limited usefulness. Details on the spending proposals can be found in the Portfolio Budget Statements. Further information is contained in a Parliamentary Library E-Brief Budget 2003: Editorials, Opinion, and Media Releases.<sup>3</sup>

Basic appropriation

The $5 528 876 000 appropriated by this Bill compares to $6 120 821 000 in 2002-03 and $4 524 716 000 in 2001-02.

Main Provisions

The total amount appropriated by the Bill is $5 528 876 000 (clause 6).

Schedule 1 contains appropriations for the States and Territories.

In relation to State payment items, the Minister for Finance may issue the lesser of:

- the amount specified in Schedule 1; and
- an amount, as he or she determines, having regard to the relevant expenses incurred by the entity in the current financial year (clause 7).

In relation to administered items, the same basic provisions apply (clause 8).

In relation to 'other departmental items', the Minister must issue:

- the amount specified in Schedule 1, where an entity has a direct statutory entitlement to its own appropriation; or
- any lesser amounts to that specified in Schedule 1, where an entity does not have a direct statutory entitlement to its own appropriation (clause 10).

The Minister for Finance may increase the amounts specified in departmental items up to a maximum of $20 million over all departmental items (clause 11). However, where there are unforeseen circumstances and the need is urgent, the Minister for Finance may increase expenditure by a total of $215 million (clause 12). Parliament must be notified of increased spending under clauses 11 and 12.

Warning:

This Digest was prepared for debate. It reflects the legislation as introduced and does not canvass subsequent amendments.

This Digest does not have any official legal status. Other sources should be consulted to determine the subsequent official status of the Bill.

The relevant Minister listed in column 4 of Schedule 1 will be able to determine conditions under which payments to the States and Territories can be made (clause 14).

Clause 15 formally appropriates funds for the Bill from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Endnotes

---

- 1 See Bills Digest No. 156, 2002–03 Appropriation Bill (No. 1) 2003-2004 for an explanation of 'departmental' versus 'administered' expenses.
- 2 Richard Webb and David Richardson, The Commonwealth Budget: Process and Presentation (April 2003), Research Paper no. 6 2002-2003 (<http://www.aph.gov.au/library/pubs/rp/2002-03/03rp06.htm>)
- 3 <http://libiis1/Services/budget/budgeteditorials2003.htm>.

Warning:

This Digest was prepared for debate. It reflects the legislation as introduced and does not canvass subsequent amendments.

This Digest does not have any official legal status. Other sources should be consulted to determine the subsequent official status of the Bill.