REMUNERATION AND ALLOWANCES BILL 1990

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

(Circulated by authority of the Minister for Industrial Relations,
Senator the Honourable Peter Cook)

REMUNERATION AND ALLOWANCES BILL 1990

OUTLINE

The Bill provides increased rates of salary for judicial office holders, Secretaries of Departments, Members of Parliament, holders of public offices and Office Holders of the Parliament.

The Bill provides a link between the basic salary of Members of Parliament and a salary level in the Senior Executive Service of the Australian Public Service, providing that after a certain period the salaries will be equal and an adjustment to the salary level of the SES level will result in a like adjustment to the basic salary level of Members of Parliament.

Other amendments are proposed to the Industrial Relations Act 1988 to provide that the salary of the President and Deputy Presidents of the Australian Industrial Relations Commission be set by the Remuneration Tribunal rather than linked to the salary of the Chief Judge and other Judges of the Federal Court, as is presently the case.

FINANCIAL IMPACT STATEMENT

The direct costs of the adjustment proposed (excluding indirect effects on costs of superannuation, etc.) are estimated to be approximately $7m in a full year.

These costs are significantly less than would have been incurred had the Remuneration Tribunal Determinations been implemented in full.
