Senator Siewert asked:

What funding has been identified and allocated for remote infrastructure over the next five years under the National Partnership on Remote Indigenous Housing? If new arrangements have not yet been clarified or funding identified, when will these be announced and implementation plan be made publicly available?

Answer:

Capital funding provided through the National Partnership Agreement on Remote Indigenous Housing includes capacity for states and the NT to fund housing related infrastructure. Specific funding in each jurisdiction is determined as part of the biennial capital bids process.

Information in relation to progress with establishing new arrangements for funding and delivery of infrastructure in remote Indigenous communities is provided in answer to Question on Notice number 292.
