Senator Rachel Siewert asked:

How many people attended the consultation process that was held at the main park of Kununurra?

Answer:

The main park was one of the sites used for interviews by ORIMA Research for the evaluation, with one of the interviewing teams based in the park for several hours each day during the 12-day fieldwork period. The survey process did not record the location of the interview, and so it is not possible to determine the number of interviews which were completed in the main park.
