Written Question on Notice

Senator Boyce asked:

How do you respond to a body of knowledgeable criticism about your web site that would say it's difficult to navigate and discourages comment, contributions and submissions because of its poor design?

Answer:

Please refer to the answer to Question 19 in relation to site navigation.

In response to the specific suggestion that the NEHTA website “discourages comment, contributions and submissions”, we note that:

- submissions on legislation and policy are generally managed through the Department of Health and Ageing not NEHTA;
- comment and contribution is promoted through NEHTA engagement processes including the collaboration websites as well as regular meetings, consultation processes and forums.
