Written Question on Notice

Senator Fierravanti-Wells asked:

How many of the staff appointed to ANPHA with experience working in the food industry?
What is the proportion of the staff that has had experience working in the food industry compared with the total staff?

Answer:

As at 3 November 2011, 13 staff of the Australian National Preventive Health Agency (ANPHA) have had experience working in the food industry (consisting of food handling, manufacture or retail sale).

This comprises 39 per cent of ANPHA's 33 staff.
