Topic: Housing for People with Disability with High Support Needs

Hansard Page: 23/10/2014 CA128

Senator McLucas asked:

How much funding will be made available for new housing for people with disability with high support needs in the financial years 2014-15 through to 2018-19?

Answer:

The National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) is still considering how funding for user cost of capital – that is, costs that may be incurred in establishing, maintaining or modifying accommodation – may best be used. Funding for this is included in the total funding for individual support packages. A specific stream of funding has not been identified at this point.
