Topic: Revenue from new development charges

Senator Urquhart, Anne asked:

How much revenue has NBN earned to date from new development charges outlined in the telecommunications infrastructure in new developments policy? Please provide total and then break down by

- End-user charges
- Deployment contribution by developers

Backhaul charges to developers

Answer:

nbn operates in a competitive market in respect to providing broadband services to the new developments market. Disclosing the total revenue obtained from developers and RSPs in respect to this activity would prejudice nbn's commercial interests, and this information is therefore commercial in confidence. Specific details of the contribution schedule for provision of infrastructure in new developments is publicly available at <http://www.nbnco.com.au/development-plan-with-the-nbn/new-developments/government-policy-for-new-developments.html>.
