Hansard Ref: Page 127, 20/10/15

Topic: Concept to RFS

Senator Conroy, Stephen asked:

Senator CONROY: I am reading them out. He is really just taking them on notice. How long does the process take from concept to ready for service?

Mr Morrow: We will take that on notice.

Answer:

The period from Design commenced to Ready for Service (RFS) can vary greatly depending on the size and complexity of an individual Service Area Module. The average duration of FTTN SAMs in the current plan is approximately 15-20 months.
